Seventy-seven Softball Teams Compete in Over 100 Games; Rural Schools Within Radius of 50 Miles Attend Annual Event

The city of "luring" echoed through the Exhibition Grounds here Saturday morning to start off the largest and most successful Red Deer Inspectorate of Schools Sports Day ever held. By far the largest class, 77 different softball teams from schools within a radius of 50 miles of Lacombe, played on nine different diamonds throughout the day. Over 100 games were played in this one division alone and the cries of the supporters to the teams carried for blocks. Several of the competitions were limited to three and five innings in order to work in all the events.

Escapes Serious Injury in Plow Accident at Bentley

(From Our Own Correspondent)

BENTLEY.—Casual passers-by saved Jim Freeman from serious injury on his farm, three miles south of town, recently, when his tractor began to pull the plow over him. Mr. Freeman had just finished seeding and was driving his tractor with a plow, seed drill and oil wagon hitched on behind, when the accident took place.

The plow had in some way come loose from the tractor, and the moving end, which Mr. Freeman went to fasten, pulled the plow over him, when a party passing rushed to his rescue and untangled him. Outside of a few bruises and cuts, Mr. Freeman is none the worse for his accident.

Red Deer Milk Condensery Leased By C.A.D.P.

Meeting of Delegates Held in Red Deer Friday to Discuss Proposal

The Central Alberta Dairy Pool, consisting of Red Deer, was leased for a short time to the Alpine Milk Company, it was decided at a delegates' meeting held in Red Deer Friday afternoon. The meeting was closed to the public, and a representative of the Lacombe Globe, along with other press representatives, was asked to retire before the meeting got under way. An official report of the meeting was obtained from the officials of the Central Alberta Dairy Pool.

The report reads as follows: "At a delegates' meeting of the Central Alberta Dairy Pool held in the City Hall, Red Deer, on Friday, May 27, the important question was whether the Pool would continue to operate the condensery at Red Deer or lease it."

"Forty delegates out of a possible forty-two were present, which represented the entire territory of the Pool. After discussing the matter during the afternoon by the delegates, who discussed the production would be decided to lease the condensery to the Alpine Milk Company. By so doing it was felt by all present that production would be increased considerably, which naturally will give the dairy producers an opportunity to market their products through this plant in the future."

"The outstanding feature of the entire meeting was the harmonious manner in which the delegates carried out the business, which was carried on and concluded, with the delegates showing a very splendid spirit of co-operation throughout the entire meeting."

After the meeting, Mr. Adrian and the board were given a hearty vote of thanks in carrying on so splendidly despite the adverse criticism which had been offered from time to time from outside sources."

Maximum Amount of Insurance That May Be Carried Limited to $5.00 Per Acre

Hail insurance under the terms of the recently passed Alberta Hail Insurance Act is now available almost all throughout the Province at almost all the Municipal District offices. Nothing will be allowed for the first 10 per cent of loss on any crop, under the terms of the new Act.

Rates for the insurance vary, running from 7 to 9 per cent, with one township within the Municipal District of Crown (T. 39-28-W.4) having a special rate of 12 per cent. A deposit of five dollars must be made at the time of making application for insurance, and no application is valid until such time as the Hail Insurance Board has accepted the risk. The Hail Insurance Board, as provided by the Act, is appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

A Brighter Outlook

STORIES from the southern drouth areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan continue to strike an optimistic note, with the possibility of a normal crop in these districts for the first time in seven years. Since 1931, the primary producers of these districts have seeded land too dry to sprout the seed and too powdery to keep from drifting. Year after year these once prosperous citizens of the west watched their seed disappear in wind storms to points unknown. They have watched their stock become thinner and thinner, and were finally forced to sell their farm animals for lack of feed.

All Canada joins in the fervent hope that these farmers will get a crop that will help them to help themselves. In all Canada's history a more severe trial of faith and morale has never been imposed on one single class of people as has been recently imposed on our great south-west wheat fields. Let us all hope that this year the drouth farmers' faith in the west will be justified, and that the farmers will again be able to stand on their own feet and look over fields that are once more producing grain at a profit.

Gets His Dividends!

M. R. G. F. POWELL is a very lucky man—fortunate enough to get his dividends in advance for 100 months. Most people would feel lucky if they got them for one month. It is a good proof that "plenty" does exist in Alberta, in spite of the "poverty" we hear so much about. It's a nice "plum" for a man to get, in addition to the $12.00 a day he was drawing down while serving time for violating the laws of Canada. But there, maybe, he was entitled to it, for being a martyr to the cause. Most people, though, will differ on this point.

What a whale of a time one can have in the Old Country with four thousand dollars. Mr. Powell will no doubt have a great chuckle to himself while crossing the Atlantic, at the overwhelming generosity of the people of Alberta. Mr. Powell will be a "piker" if he doesn't treat Major Drouth to a real night on "Pleasant" or a "jolly old week-end" at Brighton or Margate.

Is Democracy in Danger?

THE discontentment of recent years among many residents of Canada has given alarmists another opportunity to mount the public platform of the Dominion and warn the residents of this country against fascism—nazism—and all the other "isms" running rife throughout the world in conjunction with colored shirts. Admittedly, there are many groups operating throughout the Dominion where schools of thought run along the lines of dictatorship—but Canadians as a whole are far too fond of their freedom to admit of a dictatorship in their country.

Democracy, as operated in Canada, might have its deficiencies but it still allows the maximum amount of freedom for its citizens, and its serious problems are all problems that can be solved by the people. There is a feeling of importance—an egotistical spirit of superiority which accompanies each ballot dropped in the ballot box election day. Canadians would not willingly forego the part they play in the government of their country; they would not destroy their freedom, hard won as it was by the builders of Canada. The majority of Canadians are of British origin, and inherent in all Britons is that streak of democracy which is Canada's best safeguard against the inroads of dictatorial influences.

Just as Hyde Park, London serves as a steam vent for the radicals of England, so Canada has its meetings at which one might hear of possibly true and more probably false charges of the present democracy—of the benefits to be derived from this, that or another form of government, but such talk should be taken with a grain of salt. It seems highly improbable that Canada, as it is today, would ever turn to a dictatorship or any other form of government which would curtail freedom—freedom of thought, of speech, of action. Such a state is hard to visualize for Canada.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

We women of Alberta are really very fortunate in one respect, and that is in the sense of security of the bonds of marriage. Divorce is rare in Canada, and most rare in Western Canada, while just across the border, in that great country to the South of us, it is as common as the birds in Spring. It makes one wonder if environment hasn't an awful lot to do with broken marriages. It is worth noting that amongst the rural population, divorce is almost non-existent, while proportionately the larger the city, the greater the divorce rate. Country life, in spite of the many worries, and in spite of, or perhaps because of, the lack of many of the conveniences enjoyed by our neighbors in the city, moves more equably; trials are shared more equally by husband and wife, who spend much of their time in each other's company, and in that of their children, while in the city, the wife, with "all modern conveniences" at her beck and call, is often hard put to it to find an outlet for her energies and labors, while her husband is absent all day, and often worried by problems that he does not feel he can trouble his wife with.

Numbers of people advocate easier divorce. Divorce reforms have been advocated by leaders of feminist movements for many years; it has been a plank in many a political platform; some reforms have been introduced, and perhaps more should be made, but I truly believe that too easy divorce would not be advantageous.

Easy divorce is an incitement to hasty marriage. Divorce should not be made easier, but to get married should be made harder. To take the most important step in life, no qualifications are necessary. Any young couple, apparently, can get a license, and in the States, at any time of the day or night, drunk or sober, what does it matter?—divorce is easy! It is modern and smart to dash from one thrill to another, and it is this pace that causes so much heart-break.

At meetings where easier divorce is being advocated, we women would be wise, I think, to remember some of the doings of the younger set over the line. If we force this kind of legislation, we may have cause to regret it wholeheartedly, when, later, our own children may suffer from its effects. According to the U.S. newspapers, more than one girl has collected a husband, unknowingly, as the result of a drunken spree. Some make capital of their experience by writing their stories for the "penny dreadfuls," and some even may have the luck (?) to cash in on a movie contract. Divorce being so easy, the unwanted mate is easily disposed of. The majority of women in this country, I believe, are old-fashioned at heart, where marriage is concerned, and do not chafe at the bonds of matrimony, but rather rejoice in the permanence of this thing called "marriage."

Men would be well advised to also keep in mind that easy divorce would mean more trouble for their wives. Let them bear in mind that type of female, the unscrupulous vampire type, whose "racket" is alimony. It pays! Marry five or six husbands, and collect alimony from all of them. Many decent men, having got caught by one of these females, spend the rest of their lives in and out of prison, prevented from paying their rightful place in society by having to pay some happy money to which she has no moral right.

Make the act of getting married much more difficult, demand qualifications, and insist on a definite time between notice of a forthcoming marriage and the actual ceremony. This period of waiting might prevent many a hasty, ill-considered wedding from taking place. Calling the "banns" for three weeks, and allowing no special licenses, would be a good deterrent to rash youth.

There appear to be signs that this nervous, uneasy desire for change, largely born of the war, is passing—but to facilitate divorce at this time would be a step in the wrong direction. Perhaps we women could do our part better by teaching our children the beauty and sanctity of married life.

Do You Know?

FRED NELLES.

who has lived in this district since 1897. Mr. Nelles was born in Caledonia County, Ontario, in 1874, less than 100 yards from where the last duel in Canada was fought. He received his school education in Caledonia proper, and after finishing school spent some time around his father's farm.

At the age of 23, the "Go West young man, Go West," saying was at its strongest, and Fred headed the call to travel to Lacombe in the fall of 1897. He immediately took up a homestead on the south end of Gull Lake, where, for the next 15 years, he made his home. In 1912 Mr. Nelles sold his farm to Hans Hansen, who still resides there, and moved into Lacombe, where he became a cattle buyer and real estate agent. In 1913 he enlisted with the 31st Calgary Battalion and served overseas until 1918, when he again returned to Lacombe.

Early in 1919 he acquired a farm 11 miles north of Lacombe, living there for some time before selling out to live in Jasper for over a year. In 1925, however, Fred returned to this district when he bought the quarter section 11 miles north of Lacombe adjoining the farm where he had formerly settled.

Mr. Nelles was married in 1897 to Miss Ella Meliride, who first came west in 1894. There he visited with her sister for two years, returning to Caledonia, where she was married, in 1896. They have three daughters: Mrs. Jessie Armstrong and Mrs. Dennis Kent, Jasper; Mrs. George Parks, Edmonton; three sons, Alec, Jasper; Jim of Trees and Ben of Lacombe, and several grandchildren.

A History of the Lacombe Golf and Country Club

By JACK McCAGHERTY

The incorporation of the proposed club was applied for, and the capital was set at $5,000, divided into 120 shares at $50 each. It was unanimously agreed that the shares had to be paid for within a year, or the instant money paid and the stock would revert to the club. The certificate of incorporation was issued on April 3, 1925, and John Smith, an architect, then of Edmonton and now of New York, was hired to lay out the course.

As the next step, the institute went ahead to clear the course. From the thick bush and trees, very dense in most places, the "pioneers" of the club hued out the fairways—holes as at present numbers two, four, five and six were cut from a solid mass of trees. They chopped and the miniature forest, dug and picked the roots, and hand-raked the fairways—a long, tedious job, but they stuck to it and when it was completed, they had done their work well.

As many of the original group are still residents of Lacombe, their just reward comes in view of the fine course we have today——their dream come true.

Settling the West With the Rimbeys

(In which the author takes us back to pioneer days in Blindman Valley).

By VIOLA MACDONALD

Mention is also made of Tapley Bunch, one of the real old-timers, whose greatest claim to fame lies in the fact that he is the only man in the whole world who is father to a son younger than his own great-grandson. That's an honest to goodness fact and if you don't believe it—ask him—he still lives in Rimby.

Then there is the story of the herd of wild horses that today is reputed to be running at large on the wild range country west of Rimby. Away back in 1905, the Dominion Government sent a Mr. Swetapple down to Rimby with orders to shoot all horses afflicted with glanders. Shelby Reed (the same Reed who "toted" the gun), fearing for his herds of fine horses, ran 75 head of the choicest out west to grazing lands until the trouble had blown over. But later, when he tried to reclaim them, he found that they had joined up with a band of wild horses and had drifted so far beyond the Saskatchewan and Brazeau Rivers that recapture was impossible.

Since then, this band of horses has gone completely wild—and the stories brought in by Indians and trappers say—and have evaded all attempts at capture.

Coming of the Railway Perhaps the most sensational of the stories has to do with the hectic period of waiting for the coming of the railway. The town had then been built about 18 years and when the railway did arrive, it missed the town by a mile. Opinion was split as to whether or not the town should be moved to a new site on the railway. Feeling ran high, and when the village newspaper made so bold as to print an advertisement for "new townsite" lots for sale, a party of "old-timers" took the law into their hands and threw the printing press, type, telephone and all other equipment out into the mud-bogged street. That unfortunate newspaperman was Barney Halpin, the present editor of the "Rimby Valley News."

THE PASSION FOR CRAFTSMANSHIP THAT CHARACTERISED THE FOUNDERS

Craftsmanship—the skill and dexterity in the making and shaping of things, plus a quality of finished product in which its maker delights—was the characteristic of the outstanding products of workmen and manufacturer in the centuries previous to that of ours. It was such pride of product that prompted its maker to place his mark upon it—the origin of trade marks. Even individual parts or assemblies, such as a binder knotter, bore the mark of the man who assembled it and his pride was in the fact that few, if any, of the units bearing his mark were found wanting.

The passion, and passion it may well be termed, that surged through the hearts and minds of the founders and men responsible for the business in the earlier days, for turning out machines of such a quality as brought world-wide acceptance of them and demand for them, still rules the policies of Massey-Harris today.

Never before was such skill employed in the designing and developing of machines for the farm. The factories today are equipped with the latest and most up-to-date machinery for the production of farm implements, and these factories are manned by men of training and experience, a great many with a life experience in the making of Massey-Harris implements.

Letters to the Editor

PARLÉZ VOUS FRANÇAIS?

Editor, Lacombe Globe:

Dear Sir:—I would be glad if you would spare me a little space to correct some errors which occurred in the column headed "Through the Eyes of a Country Woman." "Pride goes before a fall," and I certainly took a big tumble when I saw your paper last week. Until then I was under the impression that my writing was at least readable! Apparently it is not, as any word mentioned a little out of the ordinary was misspelled. "Eosala de Manzanas de potatos" should have read "potatoes," "Langue de Couff," needless to say, should have been "Langue de Bouff," and "Dindé re chauf" was intended for "Dinde rechauffé." The name "Anton Boli" was also misspelled—the name is Anton. In future it is the typewriter for me.

Yours truly,

BRIDGET.

Editor's Note:—Nous devons admettre que nous ne savons pas beaucoup de français—but we still had one hundred per cent in English.

THE SCHOOL SPORTS

Editor, Western Globe:

Dear Sir:—Would you be good enough to publish the following letter:

We, the Jones Valley School Annex, wish to apologize for the confusion we caused in the Rural School Football competition at Lacombe, Saturday, May 28. We had had no intention of entering under false pretences, and would like to express our regret for any ill-feelings and misunderstanding that may have arisen, and perhaps offer an explanation.

The High School Annex (grades IX, to XII), of the Jones Valley School is situated some distance away from the main school. Consequently, although we are supposed to be a two-roomed school, each room is practically independent of the other. It was this Senior room alone that entered the Sports' Competition.

You see, with only 10 pupils in the class altogether, we could have only a mixed team, and Division Two was the only class open to us. By entering only the Senior room, we believed we were qualifying as a one-roomed school. After all, there was nothing in the notification poster to say that one-roomed high schools were not eligible. Our enrolment was not large enough to allow us to be inaugurated as an independent high school; had it been so, we would naturally have had a more select team than we had. We say this, not to excuse ourselves, but to remind you that a team like ours could have been quite legal—even though in our case it was not strictly so.

As a matter of fact, we went

Into Lacombe fully expecting to be defeated in the first game, or at best the second. That we should be more than a fair match for the other teams was the last thing we expected. But if this is the case, then we wish to offer our sincerest apologies to the Valley Centre, Shady Nook and Sergeant schools. We hope they will understand the situation and accept them.

Yours respectfully,

Closing of Alberta Banks Possible if Dominion Govt. Allows Alberta Acts

By T. B. WINBROSS

Danger, that bank branches which have served the Province since the first settlements were established and which now assist the transaction of the business of the people—the unemployed, the farmers, the merchants and the manufacturers alike—may be forced to withdraw from many sections of the Province, caused fear in widely scattered parts of Alberta last week.

Continued attacks upon banks by members of the Alberta Government and legislation discriminating against the banks, were declared to be the cause of the danger. The only bank in the Bruderheim district was closed a short time ago, and the branch which serves the whole Onoway district was closed up on Tuesday of this week (May 31).

At Fort Saskatchewan last week, fearing that the branch there is about to be closed, the Town Council adopted a resolution expressing appreciation of the bank's services and asking all residents of the district to sign a petition asking that the branch be kept open.

The Town Council of Magrath, in Southern Alberta, also passed a resolution last week and forwarded it to Edmonton, to receive the attention of the Alberta cabinet when the ministers return from their political campaign in Saskatchewan. The resolution quoted reports that many small-town branches might be closed down, including the Magrath branch, which serves the whole Del Bonita and Coles Springs districts as well, and told the cabinet ministers that until the Government establishes some institution which can carry on a banking service as efficiently as the banks are doing it now, the banks should not be legislated out of the Province.

The resolution observed that the Securities Taxation Act and the extremely heavy direct taxation on banks, particularly, would have the effect of making it impossible for small branches to continue to operate in the Province.

Banks Make Reply

The banks finally have been moved to reply with facts to false statements made against them by Alberta Social Credit politicians. A. T. Lowe of Calgary, Alberta supervisor of the Royal Bank of Canada, has issued a statement answering the claim recently made publicly by G. L. MacLachlan, chairman of the Social Credit Board, that banks collect an annual income of $30,000,000 within the Province. Mr. Lowe termed the claim "entirely inaccurate and misleading," and continued:

"The chairman of the Social Credit Board is wholly in error. The facts are that the gross income of all chartered banks operating in Alberta during 1937 aggregated only about 12 per cent of the amount claimed by Mr. MacLachlan. Let me emphasize that, the words 'gross income'."

"After deducting $2,000,000 for salaries paid to employees in the Province and after making allowances for taxes which are altogether out of line with those paid in other provinces, payment for rent of offices and other charges of a fixed nature, it will be seen that little, if anything, remains. Certainly anything left is entirely inadequate to take care of bad debts. As a matter of fact, bank services have been rendered at a substantial loss in Alberta over the past 10 years.

"I make this statement because I feel that assertions so unfounded and extravagant as the one referred to, when made by men whose positions imply some responsibility, should be met with facts, so that the inherently fair-minded citizens of Alberta may not be misled."

Taxes Help Municipalities
Town councils have remarked that a substantial part of bank taxation and bank expenses, including salaries, are paid in the municipalities that the bank serves, and still more taxation is paid to the Federal and Provincial Governments. Apart from the bill which is now before the Privy Council to tax the banks operating in Alberta an additional $2,000,000 a year, they already pay more than $220,000 annually to the Provincial Government.

That, say observers, is why the banks operate at a loss in Alberta right now, and why they might have to deprive some districts of service provided by branches which have losses that are too great to bear.

Announcement by Prime Minister Mackenzie King at Ottawa that THE PEOPLE will have complete control of the Bank of Canada within the next few weeks, and through it complete control of chartered banks, may force some change in Premier Aberhart's political tactics. But last week he told a Saskatchewan audience that he did not want to establish a provincial bank because it would be under control of the Bank of Canada.

One of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon is Isaiah 48:22, "Hearken unto me, O ye people: I am the first, I also am the last." One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health" with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in anything which does not proceed from this great and only cause." (p. 207).

RECOMMENDS TAX ON FUTURES TRADING

T. C. Knight, a member of the Manitoba Economic Survey Board, recommends a tax on trading in grain futures on the Winnipeg Exchange as a new source of revenue for that Province. The proposed tax would produce $15,125,000. It is doubtful, however, if this proposal will receive serious consideration. In other years when confronted by heavy taxation, the exchange threatened to move to the Head of the Lakes.

Upward of 200,000 German soldiers and sailors are still "missing" on World War records.

PRAIRIE PRICES LOWER BY FINDS IN TURNER VALLEY

Oil product consumers know the developments in the Turner Valley have resulted in lower prices for gasoline and distillates in Alberta, Saskatchewan and even in a large part of Manitoba.

It happened because producers, pipe lines, railways, and refineries, got together and made prices available over the whole prairie area. To do this former sources of supply were displaced. Thus Montana crude oil was forced out of the picture.

To the lay observer it might seem that the lower the price goes in Turner Valley, the better for the consumer. This would not be the case. The price of service provided by branches which have losses that are too great to bear.

A FEW CANDID WORDS ABOUT BANK EARNINGS

Half of one per cent. a year on total assets is not much of a profit margin for any business, corporate or individual. Yet that is all the "reluct" there is in the business of Canada's chartered banks.

Banks pay interest on personal savings deposits. They charge interest on loans.

The difference is not all "reluct" by any means—for these reasons:

- (a) It costs money to operate a bank.
- (b) The cash reserves held by the bank earn nothing.
- (c) A bank must provide for losses.
- (d) Earnings on a great deal of a bank's assets are very low.

More than 25,000 people are employed in Canada's banks. In the last ten fiscal years Canada's chartered banks have paid in wages and salaries over $75,000,000—purchasing power distributed over the Dominion.

In the same ten years banks paid in taxes to municipalities $40,631,930; to provinces $14,429,320; and to the Dominion, $24,027,324, a total of $79,088,574.

Banks have other costs, too: Rent on premises; stationery and printing; light, water and fuel; contributions to pensions and group insurance for employees. Depreciation on buildings takes a large amount each year.

Any money a bank pays—taxes, wages or other costs—can come only from the bank's resources—and must be paid in cash. No magic can produce it.

Banking is not all sunshine. It has its cloudy aspects too. Banks must stand ready to pay their creditors—the depositors and note-holders—a hundred cents on the dollar, but banks unfortunately cannot always collect a hundred cents on the dollar. They have losses, inevitably, and must set aside substantial sums to meet them.

A bank must keep itself in such a cash position as to be able to pay your deposit whenever you see fit to withdraw it.

Chartered banks are required by law to lodge with the Bank of Canada, or hold in Bank of Canada notes, five per cent. of their depositors' funds; but, in practice, they always carry about twice that percentage. Deposits with and notes of the Bank of Canada earn no interest for the chartered banks.

It is necessary also to keep a further amount in short term investments readily convertible into cash. The yield on such investments is low, firstly, because Treasury Bills and other short term securities mature at short date; secondly, because banks having no monopoly of money or credit—cash reserves of many industrial concerns compete for this type of investment.

Bank earnings depend very largely upon loans, but a bank can lend only when the customer wants to borrow.

Ordinary bank loans in 1929 averaged $1,342,000,000; in 1937 only $731,000,000.

Bentley

(From Our Own Correspondent)
HENTLEY.—Miss Elsie Dickson has returned home from Popoka, where she was working for the past few months.

Miss Olive Trimble, who has been employed at Oils for some months, returned home last week. J. C. Carritt's small orchard is a pretty sight at the present time, with trees of standard apples, cranberries, wild cranberries, cherries, plums and wild plums all in bloom at the same time.

Home for Holidays

Miss May Trimble, nurse in training at the University Hospital, Edmonton, is spending holidays at her home here. Miss Mary McFadden, also of the University Hospital, accompanied her.

Nurse Thompson, a graduate of Edmonton General Hospital, has joined the staff of the Bentley Community Hospital, replacing Nurse Edith Hoagland, matron for the past five years.

Rev. C. A. Warren was in Edmonton last week attending sessions of the United Church Conference. Mrs. Warren visited with relatives in Ashmont, Alta.

Mrs. Glen Wright was in Edmonton visitor last week.

About 35 attended the School Sports held at Lacombe last Saturday. The Bentley school boys were successful in winning out in the finals for the softball for boys 16 and under and the football for 16 and under boys.

While the girls were not so successful in the final games, they made a fine showing in the 14 and under softball and the 16 and under basketball, winning the first games in both classes.

Square Deal Will

"A square deal for everybody," said "Bible Bill" one day. Should be our motto from now on.

Now, brothers, let us try.

"A square deal for everybody," But I think I'll get mine first. I'll get a brand new mousetrap. I really could do worse!

"You'll have to ride in 'Lizies' Or in the old buck board; But you know, I'm your master. With a stand-in with the Lord."

"A square deal for our members. We'll just increase their pay. We know you have hard shelling—You'll get dividends some day."

"Powers and Unwin, faithful friends. Should get a square deal too; We'll have the warden 'spring' them."

When half their term is through. A square deal for the farmer. And ranchers, too, yes, bet. We'll levy a production tax; You ain't seen nothing yet!

A square deal for the Mounties. Upholders of the law; I haven't any use for them, So I'll write to Ottawa.

And Major Bowen, too, one day. Refused to sign a bill; We'll take his residence away. For I am Square Deal Will!

A square deal for the people. Why, you've got the whole thing wrong. If I started to do that, I wouldn't be in 'Lizies."

—Barney, in the Black Diamond Flare.

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTLE

TEES.—The Tees handball club invaded the Nebraska team's sandlot on Sunday and put up a good fight to hold that team to a 3-5 draw in seven innings of play. It is hard to say how the game would have eventually ended had rain stayed away for another half hour, but to a great many the rain was very welcome, as it kept both teams from a loss. The Tees team looked a lot better, with a few seasoned players taking part on their side and should make a very good showing before the league games end.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brawner have just received word from their eldest daughter, Bernice, who has been taking some special courses in Livingston, Montana, that she had graduated with flying colors. Bernice has been away from Tees now almost a year and expects to return about the middle of June. Everyone will be glad to see the county's young lady return to our midst.

Mrs. Nelles left Monday morning for Banff, where she will attend the twinkling of Stars from the East, at their Grand Lodge of Alberta gatherings at that point.

Mrs. W. A. Holsworth paid a week-end visit with friends at Rocky Mountain House, returning Sunday evening.

Looking for Ballplayers.—The manager of the Alx handball team continues to look for players throughout the county where he might pick up a hot one. No game goes by on any of the local sandlots that either he himself or his scouts do not attend. This attention is greatly appreciated, for as a rule one of the scouts looks after the score books so that all errors and hits are shown and chances taken care of, whereas when one of us does it, we miss most of the same.

The C.P.R. took pity on their agent last week and moved the coal shed closer to the depot before putting in the new supply of coal.

The boys' softball team entered the High School softball tournament held at Stettler last Saturday, the score being 32-14. The excuse for such a defeat is that Stettler sports an extra grade above Tees and therefore had a much larger club, besides from one to two years age advantage.

The dance and box social last Friday, sponsored by the Baseball Club, was very successful. It was expected, although the boys cleared about 320. Heavy clouds blanketed up in the southwest around 3:30, and a steady drizzle evening and this might have dampened the spirits of possible attendees to some extent. The boxes were sold very reasonably—on a matter of fact too reasonably considering the work that the young ladies went to in beautifying them.

Seeding must be completed this week and the crops are looking very good. There is plenty of sub-soil moisture and the little showers of the past few days are keeping the top-soil in good shape.

Wm. Bright of the Independent Elevator is now accompanying Mr. Pearson, superintendent, on a general inspection of electrical wiring and appliances throughout the Independent string of elevators in Alberta. His stay here is from two to three months. While away, his position is being filled by O. M. Conrad.

The girls' softball club wish to extend their heartfelt thanks for the generous support given them while raising funds during the past three weeks.

Edmonton Exhibition Celebrates Jubilee

Edmonton's Diamond Jubilee Exhibition will be held July 18-23. Ever since 1879, when the Agricultural Society staged the first fair in Edmonton, this event has been held with annual regularity, and the Edmonton Exhibition grounds, buildings and equipment are as modern as any in Canada.

Thirty-five thousand dollars is being spent to improve the appearance, safety and comfort of roads, fences, grounds and buildings, new bleachers provide added seating accommodation for grandstand patrons.

Every page of the 1938 Edmonton Exhibition price list, now available free on request, reminds the reader that this is Jubilee year for the Edmonton Exhibition.

How Different From Today

Very few owners of up-to-date Pontiac motor cars are aware that automobiles bearing the same name were changing and sputtering up and down the roads of America as far back as 1904 or '05. Although they bore no resemblance whatever to the present Pontiac cars or organization, these ancient vehicles had made automotive history long before the present Pontiac appeared on the market in 1920.

A two-cylinder engine, huggie-type dashboard and steel-rimmed wheels were the features of this early one-seater. The pride and joy which the owner may have felt in his Pontiac horseless carriage was tempered, however, by this warning note in the manual which went with the car:

"Pride means getting cheery, and just because you can drive up a lane without tearing down (pegs), don't start hunting for hard stunts." The book also warned against fractured arms in cranking and difficulty in climbing hills.
